By framing art history as creole histories, we will be focusing on cultural encounters over time and explore the adaptive power of artistic form to account for how culture emerges through the interactions of different communities. The emphasis is on migration and translation in the making of culture. The course structure is loosely chronological and provides students with an overview of major cultural patterns and knowledge systems in Southeast Asia. These include Austronesian Seafaring Cultures and Settlement Patterns, the Sanskrit Cosmopolis across the Kalapani (Black Waters), Islamicate Architecture and Art, Negara as ritual state, anti-statist communities in sea, inland and mountains, the nanyang, Indian ocean trading world (ceramics and textiles), Christianity and European enterprise. Instead of emphasising on the cultural integrity of the region, the framing above invites students to consider Southeast Asia as a node that at different periods in time and through different cultural communities found connection to different parts of the world – East Asia, South Asia, Latin America, Africa and Europe. Besides elucidating the basic religious principles or worldview that underline these cultural geographies. Thematic inquiry will encourage students to think about questions of power (how does it manifest itself? What role does art play in this?), gender (what is the role of women? how do sexual difference inform artistic practices?), memory (how is past recorded? How is art a technology of remembering? What are the politics of memory?) and translation (what are the adaptive principles that inform cultural encounters? What is retained and what changes?).

Sinopsis Kandungan Kursus Synopsis of Course Contents	Seni Moden Asia Tenggara Kursus ini menyelidiki seni berkaitan dengan konteks sosial, politik dan ekonomi di Asia Tenggara dari hari ke-19 - sekarang, dengan fokus pada naratif 'duniawi'. Kami akan meneroka seni moden Asia Tenggara berkaitan dengan dan dibandingkan dengan budaya seni yang muncul dari Globalisasi (Imperialisme Barat dan Neo-Liberalisme) dan Dunia Ketiga. Kursus ini terdiri daripada tiga bahagian yang berkaitan, yang bertujuan untuk menjadikan 'bingkai tafsiran tempatan kelihatan' walaupun kita menceritakan kisah seni Asia Tenggara dari perspektif global. Pertama-tama kita akan mengkaji idea-idea mengenai pertumbuhan bandar, perkembangan teknologi, yang lain melalui seni pada abad ke-19, untuk memastikan bagaimana peristiwa-peristiwa bersejarah tertentu - kolonialisme, perlawanan politik, dan pencerahan - membentuk avant-garde, budaya visual, dan gerakan popular . Analisis sejarah akan digabungkan dengan pengenalan pelbagai pendekatan yang digunakan dalam penafsiran seni dan seni bina. Komponen kedua melihat seni dan seni bina yang berkembang berikutan kemerosotan dan kejatuhan kerajaan. Perkaitan erat antara seni dan konsep kebangsaan menandakan tempoh ini. Walaupun begitu, seniman tidak selalu sepakat dengan ideologi panduan atau bentuk gaya apa yang seharusnya. Pandangan berbeza antara kosmopolitanisme / nativisme, kemodenan / tradisi, realisme / pengabstrakan, kemajuan / pemulihan struktur antinomies seni dan seni bina 'Debat Besar' pada zaman ini. Kursus ini diakhiri dengan cabaran seni ke arah paradigma moden yang bermula sekitar tahun 1970-an. Perbezaan jantina dan seksual, identiti budaya, globalisasi, digital dan politik lokaliti menjadi perhatian penting dalam pembuatan seni. Sebilangan besar masalah ini juga telah mengubah cara seni dipersembahkan, di mana ia ditunjukkan, dan juga kemunculan kurator sebagai pembicara baru untuk seni. Pergeseran ini dijelaskan dengan istilah 'kontemporari'. Kami akan mengkaji kontemporari berkaitan dengan warisan moden mengenai amalan seni terkini.	Southeast Asian Modern Art This course investigates art in relation to the social, political and economic contexts of Southeast Asia from the 19th – present day, focusing on narratives of 'worlding'. We will explore modern art of Southeast Asia in connection with and in comparison to artistic cultures that emerged from Globalisation (Western Imperialism and Neo-Liberalism) and the Third World. The course is made up of three related sections, which aims to make 'local interpretive frames visible' even as we tell the story of Southeast Asian art from a global perspective. We will firstly examine ideas about urban growth, technological developments, encountering the other through the arts in the 19th century, to ascertain how specific historical events – colonialism, political resistance, and enlightenment – shaped the avant-garde, visual culture, and popular movements. Historical analysis will be combined with an introduction of various approaches used in the interpretation of art and architecture. The second component looks at art and architecture that developed following the decline and fall of empire. A close association between art and concept of nationhood marks this period. Nevertheless, artists were not always in agreement what the guiding ideologies or stylistic forms should be. The dissenting views between cosmopolitanism/nativism, modernity/tradition, realism/abstraction, progress/recovery structure the antinomies of art and architectural 'Great Debates' of this period. The course concludes with artistic challenges towards the modernist paradigm beginning around the 1970s. Gender and sexual difference, cultural identity, globalisation, digital and politics of locality became important concerns in the making of art. Many of these concerns have also changed the way art is presented, where it is shown, as well as the emergence of the curator as a new interlocutor for art. These shifts are described

Sinopsis Kandungan Kursus Synopsis of Course Contents	Kursus ini menekankan perkembangan penting dalam bidang pendidikan seni menjelang abad ke-21. Pendidik seni kini tidak perlu lagi mengajar kemahiran lukisan dan penghargaan seni, tetapi memainkan peranan sebagai fasilitator yang membolehkan pengalaman dan penciptaan seni yang bermakna. Oleh itu pelajar digalakkan untuk mencadangkan dan merefleksikan falsafah pengajaran mereka sendiri sebagai pendidik seni dengan mengkaji tokoh-tokoh penting dalam pendidikan seni. Pelajar diberikan pelbagai pedagogi dan strategi pengajaran supaya mereka dapat merancang aktiviti dan program yang berdasarkan “student-led” daripada “teacher-led”, yang menekankan pemikiran kritis, kesedaran sosial dan peranan teknologi. Akhirnya, pelajar akan terlibat dalam projek “hands-on” yang menggunakan muzium atau galeri sebagai ruang pembelajaran.	This course highlights key developments in art education leading up to the 21st century. Art educators today are no longer expected to teach drawing skills and art appreciation, but to facilitate the meaningful experience and creation of art. Students are encouraged to propose and reflect on their own teaching philosophy as art educators by reviewing key figures in art education. Students are presented with different pedagogies and strategies of teaching so that they can design activities and programs that are student-led rather than teacher-led, emphasizing critical thinking, social awareness and the role of technology. Finally, students will be involved in a hands-on project that uses the museum or the gallery as a learning space.
